

Dr. Jeffrey Wakefield is SWCA's Director of Economics. He has over 20 years of experience conducting natural resource damage assessments under CERCLA, OPA, and in situations where entities and government agencies are working to identify reasonable mitigation measures. He is formally trained in Economics, Marine Biology, and Biochemistry and has published in economic, biological, marine policy, and oil spill-related journals.